Think about our music lessons and what we listened too...

Now at home you could create homemade instruments with household items:

Creating instruments together can be a fun activity and the instruments can then be used to explore different aspects of music. Look at the pictures and videos and have a go at making your own!

5. You could also try using bottles either with filled with varying degrees of water or empty and scraping them with spoons or twigs to make sounds, or just upturned pans and colanders.

Think about and use the sounds of daily life:

Together with your child you could explore the sounds heard on different journeys.

For example:

What does the journey to the park sound like – what may we hear on the way?

A journey around a supermarket will involve a range of different sounds.

A journey to school, whether by foot, by bus or in a car will also involve a range of sounds.

Listen out for sounds on journeys with your child and think about how these sounds could be recreated at home?

You could make a piece of music together that represents different types of journeys that you make.

Are there any surprises on your journey and what may this sound like?

Invite your child to draw a journey and then play this journey by using body percussion, vocals and sound makers in the home.
