1. THE PURPOSE OF THE RETENTION SCHEDULE

Under the UK General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the Data Protection Act 2018 (DPA 2018) and the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), Schools are required to maintain a retention schedule listing the record series which the School creates in the course of its business.

The retention schedule lays down the length of time which the record needs to be retained and the action which should be taken when it is of no further administrative use. It also lays down the basis for normal processing under both Data Protection and Freedom of Information legislation.

Members of staff are expected to manage their current record keeping systems using the retention schedule and to take account of the different kinds of retention periods when they are creating new record keeping systems.

The retention schedule refers to all information, regardless of the media in which they are stored (e.g paper/electronic/microfilm/photographic etc).

2. BENEFITS OF A RETENTION SCHEDULE

There are a number of benefits which arise from the use of a complete retention schedule:

- a. Managing records in line with best practice guidance fulfils duties under Section 46 Code of Practice on Records Management under the Freedom of Information Act 2000. Retention Guidelines are published so there is clear communication to customers over what information should still be available to them if they wish to make a subject access request. To retain information for too long or to destroy it too soon leaves us open to criticisms on openness and transparency, and in some cases, compliance with the law.
- b. Members of staff can be confident about the safe disposal of information at the appropriate time.
- c. Information which is subject to Freedom of Information and Data Protection legislation will be available when required.
- d. The School is not maintaining and storing information unnecessarily.

Members of staff should be aware that once a Freedom of Information request is received, or a legal hold imposed, then records disposal relating to the request or legal hold must be stopped.

Records which may be required by IICSA (Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse) should be treated as though they are subject to a legal hold.

3. MAINTAINING AND AMENDING THE RETENTION SCHEDULE

Where appropriate the retention schedule should be reviewed and amended to include any new record series created and remove any obsolete record series.

Some of the retention periods are governed by statute and if record series are to be kept for longer or shorter periods than laid out in this document then the reason(s) for this need to be documented.

Where there is a recommendation to archive the information, this may be in an electronic format. There is no requirement to convert the information into a hard copy. Such records should be kept in separate electronic folder suitably marked as holding archival material.

4. WHAT TO DO WITH RECORDS ONCE THEY HAVE REACHED THE END OF THEIR ADMINISTRATIVE LIFE

4a. Destruction of records

Where records have been identified for destruction, they should be disposed of in an appropriate way. All records containing personal information, or sensitive policy information should be shredded before disposal (if possible). Any other records should be bundled up and disposed of to a wastepaper merchant or disposed of in other appropriate ways.

The Freedom of Information Act 2000 requires the School to maintain a list of records which have been destroyed and who authorised their destruction. Members of staff should record at least:

- File reference (or another unique identifier);
- File title (or brief description);
- Number of files
- The name of the authorising officer

This could be kept in an Excel spreadsheet or other database format.

4b. Transfer of records to the Local Authority

Where records have been identified as being worthy of permanent preservation, arrangements should be made to transfer the records to the Local Authority.

4c. Transfer of information to other media

Where lengthy retention periods have been allocated to records, members of staff may wish to consider converting paper records to other media such as digital media. The lifespan of the media and the ability to migrate data where necessary should always be considered.

5. ALL STAFF

Everyone is responsible for:

- Following procedures and guidance for managing, retaining and disposing of records.
- Only disposing of records in accordance with the requirements outlined in this policy (if authorised to do so).
- Ensuring that any proposed divergence from the records retention and disposal policies is authorised by the Head Teacher.

DISCIPLINARY AND GRIEVANCE PROCESS

If in any doubt as to which categories disciplinary records fall under, please seek advice from the local authority HR or Legal.

The ACAS code of practice on disciplinary and grievance procedures recommends that the employee should be told how long a disciplinary warning will remain current. However, this does not mean that the data itself should be destroyed at the end of the set period.

Any disciplinary proceedings data will be a record of an important event in the course of the employer's relationship with the employee. Should the same employee be accused of similar misconduct five years down the line, and then defend him/herself by saying 'I would never do something like that', reference to the earlier proceedings may show that the comment should not be given credence. Alternatively, if the employee were to be dismissed for some later offence and then claim at tribunal that he or she had 'fifteen years of unblemished service' the record of the disciplinary proceedings would be effective evidence to counter this claim.

Care should be taken not to confuse the expiry of a warning for disciplinary purposes with a requirement to destroy all reference to its existence in the personnel file. One danger is that the disciplinary procedure itself often gives the impression that, at the end of the effective period for the warning, the warning will be 'removed from the file'. This or similar wording should be changed to make it clear that, while the warning will not remain active in relation to future disciplinary matters, a record of what has occurred will be kept.
